MATTERS INTERESTING WESTERLY

Hoag Marr Wedding at St. Michael's Church—Important Appointment for George B. Utter—Mrs. Sarah Brown Barber Dies in Nebraska.

George Benjamin Utter, of Westerly, has been appointed intermediary or "medium of appeal" for State Division No. 1, under the selective service law. The first preliminary step in completing Rhode Island's draft quota was taken Tuesday afternoon when the two state district boards, which will hear appeals from local boards and decide upon exemptions to be granted drafted men, met at the state house and fixed Friday morning at 9:30 as the time to begin the consideration of cases. A joint session of the state and district boards was held first and at that meeting the "mediums of appeal" were named. These men, one for each selection district, will handle appeals for men dissatisfied with the local board rulings, as well as appeals for the government against adverse rulings. With the exception of the First State district, and in a few other cases, the men chosen are lawyers, as various cases will have to be investigated in order that no injustice be done to men or government.

The first district board elected John S. Holbrook, of Providence, chairman; Lawrence A. Grace, of Providence, secretary. The other members are: William R. Harvey of Newport, Dr. M. E. Milne of Providence and Joseph A. Peckham, of Middletown.

The second district board organized by the selection of Albert J. Thornley of Pawtucket, chairman, and Thomas P. Corcoran of Pawtucket, secretary. The other members are: Rowland Hazard of Peace Dale; Dr. Alfred Porter of Woonsocket, and Edward McGuire of Providence.

Miss Alice V. Marr, daughter of John A. Marr, of Stillman avenue, and Clifford Hoag, of Glen Falls, N. Y., were united in marriage Wednesday at St. Michael's church on Liberty street by Rev. Walter J. Lyddy. Miss Helen Donnelly of Worcester, Mass., was bridesmaid and John Denahy of Glen Falls, best man.

The bride wore a gown of white Georgette crepe and veil and carried a shower bouquet of white roses. The bridesmaid's gown was of blue crepe net and she carried pink roses. Mr. and Mrs. Hoag left town soon after the ceremony from New York city and Glen Falls on a honeymoon trip. They will make their home in Westerly.

John Daniels and Carlton Snyder, arrested by Officer Michael Curtin, were before Judge Oliver H. Williams in the Third district court Wednesday afternoon, both charged with being intoxicated. Daniels was fined $2 and costs, amounting to $5.80. Snyder was given six months in the state work house, but sentence was suspended and he was placed on probation.

Miss Lillian Fallon of Westerly is visiting friends in Willimantic. Miss Fallon is a member of the class of '17 in the Willimantic normal school.

has returned to her home in New York.

Mrs. A. A. Stillman of Grove avenue is spending a week at the cottage of her brother, Osmar Edwards, at Quonochontaug.

Miss Belle Brown of New Haven is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Leonard of 25 Newton avenue for a few days. Mrs. Leonard has recently entertained her mother, Mrs. F. W. O'Donnell of Seattle, Washington.

Carl J. Nordell of Boston, formerly of Westerly, is represented in the exhibition which has been occupying the past two weeks in the gallery on the mezzanine at East Gloucester, Mass., by two paintings, "Her Problem," a figure composition, and "The Dignity of Summer," a recently completed landscape.

Word has been received by Westerly relatives of Mrs. Sarah Ellen Brown Barber of Haverlock, Neb., that her death occurred in Lincoln, Neb., August 1. Mrs. Barber has not been well for some years, and a year ago she had a stroke and her condition became more serious. She is the youngest sister of John B. Brown of Grove avenue and Cyrus Henry Brown of High street.

Local Laconics.
The ghost walked for the Fifth Company, Westerly, at Fort Getty, on Wednesday.

The Hopkinton town council, sitting as a court of probate, appointed the Washington Trust company, of Westerly, guardian of the estate of William L. Clarke, for several years president of the Westerly town council.

Frank Hill, Ralph M. Briggs and Lloyd R. Crandall are the appraisers. Mr. Clarke is quite aged and desired to be relieved of business cares.

Carlton Snyder was before Acting Judge Clarence E. Roche in the Third District court Wednesday, and pleaded guilty to being intoxicated three times in the past six weeks, or of being a common drunkard. He was sentenced to six months in the state work house. Sentence was suspended and he was placed on probation on payment of costs of $5.80.

John Daniels of Potter Hill, pleaded guilty of intoxication and paid a fine of $2 and costs of $5.80.

The Pivotal Job.
Thus far Chairman Hurley and Admiral Capps work together as smoothly as any major league shortstop and second baseman around what the sporting editor sometimes refers to as the "pivotal sack." And it looks more and more as if the chairman and the admiral had between them the "pivotal" job—Springfield Republican.
